Author's Notes:

His eyes closed, breath trapped his chest. The warm touch of another from behind, arm wrapped around his waist, pulling him closer.

He moans while lips crawl along the side of his neck leaving wet trails in their wake.

Fingers reach up and stroke his belly, eliciting a giggle in return.

He opens his mouth to say something but the lips against his throat tell him, "shush."

Words vibrate against his ear, sending a pulse of information up and down his spine.
